Freedom of movement?

European Union citizens and their family members have the right to move freely and live in another EU country, subject to any conditions set out in the EU's treaties.

DIRECTIVE 2004/38/EC

Source: <http://eur-lex.europa.eu/legal-content/EN/TXT/?uri=LEGISSUM:l33152>

Family members? Gender-neutral...

This covers the spouse, a partner in a registered partnership with an EU citizen and direct descendants under the age of 21 ... but the Directive doesn't specify if this includes rainbow families. In June 2018: a clarification through the Coman case.

[...] What is needed, therefore, is for the EU to take a clear stance on the matter and to inform the Member States that EU law requires them to recognise, for all legal purposes, the familial ties among the members of a rainbow family coming from another Member State, as these have been established elsewhere [...]

PROF. ALINA TRYFONIDOU (UNIVERSITY OF READING/UK), INDIVIDUAL NELFA MEMBER

WORKING PAPER: “EU Free Movement Law and the Children of Rainbow Families: Children of a Lesser God?” (2019, not published yet)

After Coman...

POSITIVE EXAMPLE POLAND: In October 2018, the Supreme Administrative Court (SAC) in Warsaw ruled in favour of a Polish lesbian couple (living in UK) concerning the transcription of their son's British birth certificate (with both mothers recognised) to enter the Polish birth register.

It is the first time, that a child with Polish citizenship has now officially two mothers.

Lawyer A. Mazurczak: “The best interest of a child and the principle of non-discrimination were the key elements in the SAC’s line of argumentation.”

Preliminary ruling at the ECJ (CJEU)? “The SAC pointed out that there is no need to refer for a preliminary ruling to the CJEU, given that it had already ruled in Coman and Others that same-sex marriages need to be recognized [...]”

What's next?

- The EU INSTITUTIONS should continue to claim on the Member States to respect the fundamental rights of all EU citizens (regardless of their sexual orientation and/or gender identity)
- Clarification of the wording in Directive 2004/38/EC (i.e. direct descendants). Are familial ties of rainbow families included?
- The mutual recognition of the CONTENT of civil documents (VERY IMPORTANT!!)
- Endeavours to strengthen children's rights, (their opinions taken into account...)
- FOR RAINBOW FAMILIES: LITIGATION...

STRATEGIC LITIGATION

Together with ILGA-Europe, NELFA wants to contribute to strategic litigation. After recent meetings (EU Commission, Parliament staff and Committee on Petitions), this seems to be the most sufficient way to work on rainbow family rights in the European framework.

NELFA has started a case collection in September 2018. We want to gather as much cases as possible to share them with the Commission and to see which ones would be good for a new “Coman case”?

ILGA-Europe just launched a new blog on how to use the Coman case in the near future, in cooperation with NELFA input

NELFA is actually invited to contribute for interventions in LGBTIQ* family cases at the European Court of Human Rights.

NELFA case collection...

CONVERTED MARRIAGES: UK-FRANCE, FINLAND-FRANCE => incompatible regulations at the beginning, then a positive decision in France, but still bureaucratic hurdles and couples (sometimes also with children) remain in legal limbo

Rejected transcription of a common birth certificate (PASSPORT?): UK (England/Scotland)-IRELAND, UK-GREECE, UK-FRANCE, UK-POLAND, SPAIN-GREECE, NETHERLANDS-FRANCE, DENMARK-BULGARIA... => loss of legal familial ties (even forced by national authorities [France] or Courts [Bulgaria] – “against the public order”)

Francesca and Alexandra

Eleni: Greek, Kate: British

Residence: Spain (Barcelona)

2012: Birth of Francesca via MAR in Spain by Eleni

2016: Birth of Alexandra via MAR in Spain by Eleni

Spain: birth certificates recognise both mothers. To obtain Spanish citizenship, a child with foreign parents needs to be registered abroad.

UK and Greece didn't accept the transcription of Francesca's birth certificate (UK: fertility treatment in Spain, Greece: same-sex couples not recognised). Francesca didn't receive a passport. After three months, Francesca was diagnosed with cancer.

The responsible person for the transcription turned a blind eye and made a partial registration of the birth.

The case was discussed by the Committee on Petitions in July 2018 and April 2019 – open end. Currently, Eleni's family tries to find advice for a complaint in Greece!

A new legal support!

- NELFA would like to build up a new network of legal researchers and lawyers in Europe (resp. EU)
- Major aims: regular contact, exchange about court cases concerning same-sex couples and rainbow families (in cross-border situations), best practices [successful lawsuits] and common efforts to bring „good cases“ to the ECHR or ECJ!
- Quick „first aid“ for rainbow families in troubles, to give them advice how to follow-up (pro bono?), further (paid) help for inquiring persons
- Most recently, NELFA has started a cooperation with the Euro Family Law Institute (FLI), a network of lawyers working on LGBTIQ* family court cases

“ [...] rainbow families exist throughout Europe, whether or not legislation provides for them. These families have the same needs as any other family, yet many are deprived of their rights on the grounds of the sexual orientation or gender identity of the partners or parents. It is crucial and urgent that our legal systems acknowledge this reality and that States work to overcome the discrimination experienced by both adults and children [...]
