NELFA PRESS RELEASE:

A strong statement at the right time! - The Commissioner for Human Rights of the Council of Europe, Nils Muižnieks, gives his full support to rainbow families.

The Network of European LGBTIQ* Families Associations (NELFA) is delighted by the recent comments made by the Commissioner for Human Rights of the Council of Europe, Nils Muižnieks. He stated that legal recognition for same-sex couples was a question of “equality before the law”. Muižnieks calls on Member States to create “at the very least” registered partnerships and to “seriously consider opening up civil marriage”. Existing laws should be reviewed in order to ensure that they include the same rights and benefits for same-sex couples as they do for married or registered different-sex couples (i.e. in the area of parental rights).

NELFA’s President, Maria von Känel, says, “I would like to express my great respect for the statement of Commissioner Muižnieks. His strong remarks read like the core parts of our own policy agenda: to reduce discrimination, to stand up for genuine equality and to see family diversity as an asset. It’s time for all Member States to finally comply with their European obligations.”

Luís Amorim, Vice-President of NELFA, adds, “The Commissioner is quite right in his analysis, also with regard to deeply rooted phobias against LGBTIQ people. The recognition of same-sex partnerships is not just symbolic; it promotes the well-being of thousands of children and their parents. And no: granting rights and benefits to same-sex couples does not take anything away from different-sex couples who already have access to them.”*

About NELFA: NELFA is the European platform of LGBTIQ* families associations, bringing together LGBTIQ* parents and parents-to-be from all over Europe. NELFA currently represents 32 organisations in 19 European countries with more than 26,500 members. NELFA is a member of ILGA-Europe and Transgender Europe. Website: <http://www.nelfa.org>
